5. Discussion

- Marty reported that the recent meeting with Dale Eslinger, SRD Fish and Wildlife Officer, on May 9 was a positive one. Dale noted at the meeting that the lawsuit was helpful to the staff in Medicine Hat because it allowed them to go forward with stronger protective measures for sage grouse habitat. The lawsuit put pressure on higher authorities in the province to allow Fish and Wildlife staff to act; they felt the province might also be sued. Secondly, reports from Dale indicate that during the spring lek count 13 male grouse were seen which is the same as last year, but in Saskatchewan there was significant decline in numbers from 40 to 18 males. Consequently, Alberta Fish and Wildlife is taking immediate steps to protect the remaining sage grouse population.
- Marty indicated that the Elk Management Plan in the Suffield Block is looking for a GN member to join its committee.
- Marty gave an update regarding the Sage Grouse Lawsuit and the Judicial Dispute Resolution. At one point it looked like the federal government was going to provide clarity as to whether or not the Minister has made an emergency order. However, it cancelled a scheduled meeting and reasserted its original position that the entire issue is covered by Cabinet confidence. As for the Judicial Dispute Resolution (regarding further critical sage grouse habitat identification) Ecojustice is still waiting to hear back from the federal government as to whether it is agreeable to the terms and conditions outlined.

6. Meeting Adjourned at 7:30 pm

The meeting was followed by Selena Mclean-Moore of the Alberta Treasury Board and Enterprise with her presentation entitled the Future Game. This was a hands-on activity to "create" a green community in this scenario-based program and to gain a better appreciation of why regional planning is important.
